RALEIGH CLUB READY FOR FRESHMEN

Rensselaer CYO Aids Production Of Drama Group

FIVE YOUNG WOMEN from Rensselaer's C. Y. O. unit, Frances Fritz, Anita Feldhaus, Helen Feldhaus, Ruth Kanne, and Jo Ann Roy, are aiding in the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the Columbian Literary Society at St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind. They have been cast in Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland" which will be presented on Sunday afternoon, October 18, and repeated on the following Sunday evening, October 25.

Mickey Isley Band Will Play Homecoming Dance Oct. 17

With Mickey Isley's band signed to play for the annual Homecoming dance Saturday night, Oct. 17, plans for the big affair are slowly but surely reaching the stages of realization.

Isley's nine-piece aggregation is quite well-known through the mid-west, as it has completed successful engagements at Chicago's Edgewater Beach Hotel, Stevens Hotel, Shoreland Hotel, and a three-year run at Madura's Danceland with broadcasts over WIND.

Doing the vocalizing for the band is Martha Nash. Isley's band, which features some of the Chicago area's best musicians, has gained the reputation of playing some of the most distinctive dance music in the middle west.

Bonfire Probably Out

The traditional Homecoming bonfire will probably be lacking since the material consumed here could be used for the salvage program of the war effort.

Heads of the various committees for the dance are Pete Varini and Bill Smith, ticket committee; Ted Swierczek and Stan Lapsys, dance committee. All the members of the Monogram Club will work together to decorate the Rensselaer Armory, where the dance is to be held.

Each residence hall will be canvassed by members of the ticket committee from whom bids may be purchased for $1.35. Tickets at the door will be $1.50.

At the Monogram Club meeting Monday evening the following were named to the homecoming dance ticket committees: Noll Hall, J. Shields, Reichert, and Cavey; Gasper Hall, Waznis and Scrabacz; Drexel Hall, Ellspermann, Klapheke, Bladel and Spalding; Seifert Hall, Kindig, Staucet, Pukelis, and Heitzman.

Kinney Names Staff Of Measure Magazine

With the appointment of additional students last week to the staff of Measure, campus literary journal, editor Francis Kinney, senior of Iron-ton, Ohio, announces that the staff has now been completed.

Those appointed to the staff last week are associate editors Richard Schreiber and Ralph Bushell, and assistants Leonard Herriges, John Goetz, Thomas Joyce, Clifford Riede and Robert Causland.

As previously announced the first copy of Measure will be off the press about the first week in November. Theme of the initial issue will be Catholic drama, and it will carry a feature article on the history of the Columbian Literary Society, which is now in its fiftieth year of existence.

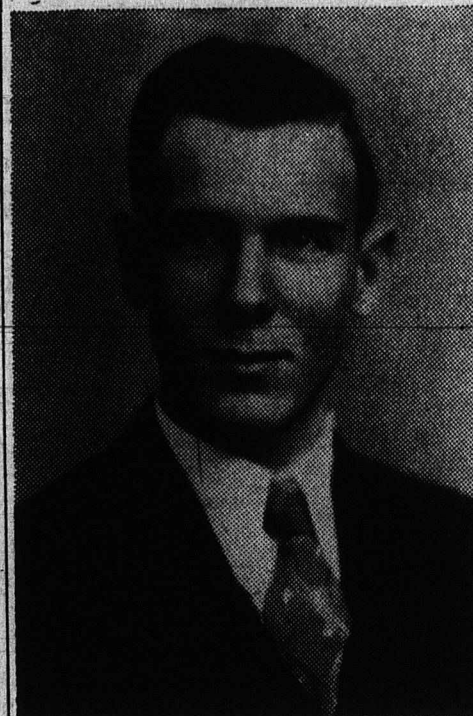

Sanguinist Appears

Off the press last Saturday was the first edition of the Sanguinist, religious bulletin published by the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action under the direction of the Rev. Thomas Grotenrath, C. P. S., moderator and Chairman of the Department of Religion.

The bulletin contains editorial and feature matter pertinent to the cause of Catholic Action, both on the campus and abroad. The first edition contained an article by the Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S.J., editor of the Queen's Work.

Edward Fischer Leaves to Serve Country In War

To Indianapolis Monday evening went Edward Fischer, head of the College News Bureau. Fischer reported for duty as a volunteer officer candidate in the U. S. Army.

Sworn into the Army at Fort Benjamin Harrison September 22, Mr. Fischer had been home on a two weeks' furlough.

Sanguinist Club Meets For Election Thursday

The Rev. Thomas Grotenrath, C.P.P.S., wishes to announce that a meeting of all the old members of the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in Science Hall, room 132. At the meeting election of officers will be held and plans for the coming year will be discussed.

Formulate Secret Initiation Plans for October 14 to 16

According to Bill Smith, president, plans for the Raleigh Club initiation have almost been completed. Secret sessions of the initiation committee—appointed at a meeting last week—are being held.

Definite instructions will be given to prospective new members early next week. Initiation will swing into action on October 14 and will last until October 16.

In years gone by, the Raleigh Club initiation has usually extended over a one-week period. This year, however, it was decided to concentrate the induction ceremonies into fewer days. Initiation will conclude with a mixer.

Club Secretary Joe Reinman announced again that first-semester dues for the club must be paid by October 11 if membership is desired for the first semester. Those who do not pay by that date will have to wait until the second semester to join. Dues may be paid in the club rooms.

Pete Varini Handles Phase Sports Section

According to John B. Keehner, editor, Pete Varini, senior from Joliet, Ill., will be sports editor of the 1943 edition of Phase, College yearbook. Assisting Varini with the sports section will be John Feicht, senior, and Joe Collier, freshman.

Dean's Office Hours

New office hours were announced today for the Registrar's office. The office will be opened on Monday, 1 to 3; Wednesday, 1 to 1:30; Friday, 1 to 3; and Saturday, 1 to 3 o'clock. Students are urged to call at the office only during office hours. All other calls must be made by appointment.

Mary of Scotland Has Long Record On Legitimate Stage

Enrollment

Reaches New High Of
379 College Men

Final figures from the office of the Registrar show a grand total of 462 students enrolled. This is nine students under the enrollment for last year.

The slightly lower total of 462 is due, mostly, to a decrease in Academy students. The total Academy enrollment is fixed at 83, while the college figures show 379 students. A class by class summary follows:

ACADEMY
Freshmen	18
Sophomore	14
Junior	7
Senior	4
Total	83
COLLEGE
Sophomore	116
Junior	30
Senior	42

Juniors Elect Timlin To Lead Class Of '44

Meeting last Tuesday for the first time this year, the junior class elected, Martin Timlin of Youngstown, Ohio, president.

Other officers will be Leonard Herriges, Columbus, Ind., vice-president; Bob Shields, Chicago, secretary; Norbert Walsh, Louisville, Ky., treasurer.

Leroy Huysman of Delphos, Ohio, and Tom Scollard of Indianapolis, will represent the class at student council meetings.

Ever since its first performance in the Alvin theatre, New York City, in 1934, Maxwell Anderson's great drama, "Mary of Scotland," which will be presented in the College Theatre on October 18, has enjoyed unusual success.

On that evening, still memorable to the ardent theatre-goers of New York, it was gracious Helen Hayes, as Queen Mary of Scotland, who held the first-night audience spellbound and drew from the New York critics countless superlatives.

Miss Hayes was ably supported by Philip Merivale, as the Earl of Bothwell, and Helen Menken, in the glory-less role of Elizabeth Tudor. Again in 1936, screen actress Katharine Hepburn starred as the lovely and tragic Mary Stuart in the successful screen rendition.

In the C. L. S. presentation, the male lead of the cocky, persistent Earl of Bothwell will be in the capable hands of John McCabe, sophomore from Harvard, Ill., veteran of two past C. L. S. plays.

Other prominent male leads will be played by Robert Causland, Roscoe McBride, and Frank Stodola.

Ruth Kanne, of Rensselaer, will portray the crafty, young, ambitious Queen Elizabeth Tudor.

Critics everywhere have spoken highly of the drama. The New York Sun printed the following review.

"Maxwell Anderson has once more clothed English history in a rich fabric which a poet can weave from the English Language. His 'Mary of Scotland' is singing drama, warmly beautiful in its speech. It has the texture of true poetry."

The play will be presented as part of the Columbian Literary Society's golden jubilee which is being celebrated this year.

Award Assistant's Post To Steve Theodosius, '42 Grad

All-American in many fields—that's the quickest way to describe Steve Theodosius, '42.

Steve didn't come to college, to go through four years of work unnoticed, and then graduate. Instead, he came and immediately began setting a record which few college men can approach.

From the beginning he was a consistent honor-roll student. In extra-curricular activities he stood out equally well.

He starred on the football team, and captained the squad in his senior year. The editorship of Measure, he capably handled. He was president of the Science Club and also held an office in the Monogram Club.

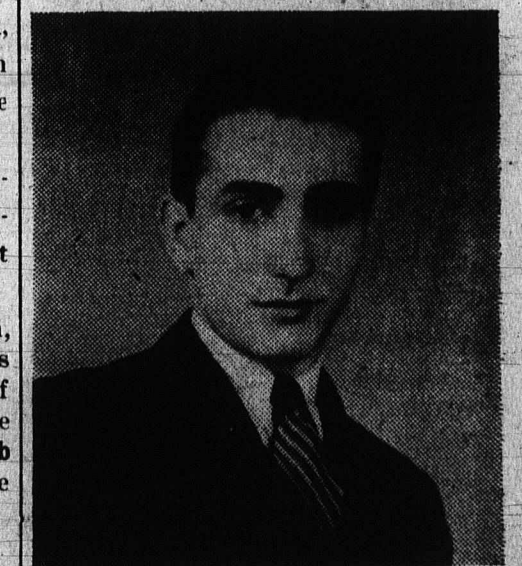

Graduates Cum Laude

Last spring when graduation time came, Steve received his degree of Bachelor of Science, cum laude.

In recognition of this outstanding record, Steve received two scholarship offers. One was for post-graduate work at the University of Arizona, the other was an offer to teach Geology and Mineralogy in Northwestern University.

He went to Northwestern where he is instructing pre-induction men.

STEVE THEODOSIUS

Though he himself is in class I-A in his draft rating, he has been temporarily deferred largely through the earnest petition of Northwestern University.

The Doors Open Wide

Did you ever notice the doors on a Catholic Church?

Doors are strange. Some of them are like a forbidding barrier, even when they are flung back. Some of them beckon you on and enfold you when you enter. The doors on a Catholic Church are still different: They seem to hold an eternal promise.

Rarely if ever are the doors on a Catholic Church locked. You see men and women and children pouring forth from them on Sundays and on Holydays. You see a man, with bowed head and huddled shoulders, going into Church late at night. And when he comes out his head is high and his shoulders are straighter. The doors on some churches are never open except on Sunday mornings and Sunday evenings. There would little need to leave them open. But it is different with a Catholic Church.

Did you ever notice the doors on a Catholic Church?

Let's Make It Noisy

When the football team started their journey to Normal, Illinois, last Friday afternoon a mere handful of students was there to cheer the team's departure. Since it was the opening game of the season, it might be supposed that all the students would be intensely interested in the outcome. The demonstration Friday afternoon hardly seems to bear out that point, however.

Perhaps it is not altogether fair to challenge the school spirit of many of the students who may not know at what time the team was to leave. Just to make certain that Friday afternoon's calm is not repeated, STUFF has arranged with Head Coach Dienhart to have the time of departure announced in the refectory. One, or all, of the cheerleaders will also be on hand to lend some pep, and organize the yells. Let's make the next team departure a noisy, spirited session.

Remember Tuesday and Friday

Don't forget the Rosary devotions every Tuesday and Friday evening during the month of October. They will take about fifteen minutes of your time. This isn't too much to give to Mary, the Mother of God. Find out how much solace and peace of mind you can find in the quiet of the Chapel. Start attending the Rosary devotions and exposition of the Blessed Sacrament this Friday if you haven't already begun.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

FEATURED on the cover of the current edition of Billboard—national theatrical weekly—is Eddy Howard, last spring's prom maestro. In the band-leading business for only two years, Eddy is already showing signs of going places in the field of modern music.

Going places in another sense is Monty Wooley. Just where the middle-aged, bearded thespian is going is difficult to say. Like many another legitimate stage star he has succumbed to the bright lights and fat checks of movie sound stages.

Brought over from New York to play the role he originated in, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," Wooley was such a hit that he was immediately signed to play the lead in Nevil Shute's "Pied Piper." Whether he will now ride the sound tracks after the manner of other Broadway-gone-Hollywood stars is a question that can not be answered here. We hope not. The living stage has too much need of talents like his.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

"Flight Lieutenant," starring Pat O'Brien, Glenn Ford, and Evelyn Keyes, is the story of a old pilot of World War I trying to crash back into the business of World War II. Playing in the background is the old pilot's son, himself an Aviation Cadet, who spends a good part of his time making love to a pretty girl and the rest of it making shenanigans in the air. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Packed with good gags and coming your way is "Here We Go Again," a new release with Edgar Bergen, Charley McCarthy, Fibber McGee, Molly, Gildersleeve, Ginny Simms, and Ray Noble with his band.

"Here We Go Again" has as many stars in as many different fields as a Broadway variety revue. You'll find it a pleasant way to pass the afternoon or evening. Legion Rating: A-1.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Judge Hardy's little boy, Andy, steps out of character to play "A Yank At Eton," reminiscent of Robert Taylor's "A Yank At Oxford." Though private lives have nothing to do with the goodness or badness of a photoplay, your reporter has a bad taste in his mouth right now for Mickey Rooney who has just disentangled himself from Mrs. Rooney via the divorce courts. Of course both of them are still at the puppy-love age—too much puppy. Legion Rating: A-1.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

Edward G. Robinson plays a tough man in "Larceny Incorporated," a sort of music-comedy-whodunnit, with very little music. You'll like it for a pleasant hour. But don't expect too much. Legion Rating: A-2.

CAMPUS CAPERS

By Spalding and Piotrowski

The members of the Raleigh Club at the last meeting tried very hard to get their faces in the picture for STUFF. Boy, were they fooled when the picture was printed. All you could see was Snuffy Smith's profile, which, by the way, was enough. The photographer, Will Donahue, had tears in his eyes when he realized he couldn't be in the picture. We guess his scrapbook can wait, if our's has to . . . Chuck Ploszek keeps pestering the mailman in Drexel everyday. The only remedy is to write, Chuck, or don't you know how? . . . Ed O'Donnell received his selective service papers and is happy that the U. S. thinks of him . . . Imagine Jiggs Huysman picking on Short-stude Stodola. But the little fellow says he'll cut him down to his size (with an ax) . . . We are glad to have Curley Wisniewski back with us again. Lots of luck in football this year, Curley . . . Ted Swierczek and woman-hater Bob Cavey are both taking the same course this semester. Are they depending on each other? . . . Battlin' Jim Beane is trying out his left in a dream. I guess the spirit got the best of him.

Ed O'Donnell barely made it back and still had paint all over him from that house he just finished after one month's vacation. That great big guy you see walking around isn't Abe Simon, but Jiggs Huysman. Jim Bogan is daring any freshman to ask him a question he can't answer, and Francis Kinney is trying to explain the gentle art of registering to freshmen, sophs, juniors, and seniors.

He spent his week's allowance betting on himself to win . . . Ye editor, Dick Schreiber, gave John Feicht a cigar for some reason or other. Rather than waste it John smoked it. He is now up and around again and the color is returning to his cheeks . . . Mac McCarthy stayed up late the other night, when the snow came, to watch for Santa Claus.

During the past few weeks, the freshmen have had a chance to orientate themselves at St. Joseph's, and also to make many new acquaintances, some of which will be lasting.

Receiving an education at a boarding school is, for most of the frosh, a new experience, one which will be profitable.

Too, we know that they understand, as we do, the seriousness of the times, the purpose for our attending a Catholic College, and the personal initiative that must be shown for success.

Thus, this week STUFF approached various members of the freshman class with these questions: How has college life impressed you so far? Has it been all you expected it to be? Is it different from high school?

Tom Brittenham, of Richmond, Indiana, keynoted his impressions of college life with these words, "It pays to study, I found out." Tom went on to say that "college life is different from what I expected. I thought it would be more routine. Also the fellows, including the upperclassmen, are more friendly than I expected."

Piper City's representative at St. Joseph's Edmund Weber, said that "college life is more difficult than high school. The days aren't so monotonous, though, because of class arrangements." Edmund added that he thought St. Joseph's was "a very fine college."

Louis Funk, second-semester freshman from Earl Park, Ind., had this to say, "As far as I'm concerned St. Joseph's campus life has more pep than I expected. Too, there is a general friendly atmosphere, which is most creditable to the College. The school spirit seems very fine for a small school."

John Rasak, another second-semester freshman from Flint, Michigan, spoke from experience when he said, "I attended a non-Catholic, city college before coming to St. Joseph's. At Collegeville I have noticed the campus spirit to be 100% better than at the non-Catholic school. I and that college life has been what have been impressed deeply, since

Senior Sketches

By Tom Scheiber

It was in 1921 that John Boyle, erstwhile baseball playing member of the senior class, graced the populace of Odell, Illinois, with his small, but nonetheless important, presence.

Johnny attended St. Paul's grade and high school in Odell; he played basketball for four years there. Majoring in physical education John would like to make a career of coaching baseball and basketball. "Boyle is a member of both the Monogram and Raleigh clubs, and when he's not in class he can invariably be found behind the counter in the J Cafe.

Probably one of the biggest highlights thus far in his life occurred last summer when he played and toured the country with the famous bearded, barnstorming House of David baseball outfit.

Concerning Johnny's military status, he is enlisted in the Naval Reserve and is now awaiting call, which will be sometime after graduation.

this is my first experience at a Catholic school. However, Benedict has impressed me more than anything. I also noticed that the teachers give more personal attention here than in other schools."

Jack O'Keefe of Hammond, Ind., likes the food, and also thinks that the students and professors are very friendly. "But," says Jack, "I found out that one must apply himself more in college, than in high school in order to accomplish something."

Paul Ehrenfried of Tiffin, Ohio, said he has met many nice fellows and that college life has been what he expected, if not more.

PUMAS TACKLE LORAS HERE SUNDAY

St. Joseph's Victorious 18 to 7 In First Game

Puma Prints

By John Feicht

When you're watching the St. Joe Loras game Sunday afternoon, don't forget that you are witnessing a game in which two teams of eleven men are fighting against each other. One man has the job of carrying the ball toward the opponent's goal line, but he is only one of the twenty-two players on the field.

Did you ever stop to think what might happen to a ball club if all the blockers decided to take it easy and take a little rest? The ball carrier would probably have carried the ball for the last time. He would get hit so hard that it would almost be impossible for him to continue in the contest, or maybe even in the game of life. When eleven men hit one man, they hit him mighty hard.

When you are watching the game, then, take turns watching the ends, tackles, guards, center, and blocking backs. If they know that someone is watching to see how they play their part in the show, they will put more effort into their assignments.

Don't forget, there will be eleven men on the field representing St. Joe. Watch to see how they play their positions. They will make the difference between victory and defeat.

As far as we are concerned, Curley Wisniewski can forget the fumble he made in the Normal game. It might have led to a score for the Normal Red Birds, but we haven't forgotten the times that Curley has won games for St. Joe. It is hard to forget the way you played last season, Curley. We also remember how you came through for us in basketball, and then again when an outfielder was needed on the diamond squad.

Forget that one fumble, Curley, St. Joe won, and that's what counts.

For those interested in touch-football, Mr. Dienhart has informed us that final plans are being formulated, and that the first game will be staged next Sunday morning.

Time is getting short before our first football game on the campus. Let's get some spirit worked up before game-time. It is advisable that the raw freshmen learn the words of the fight song.

Geo. Ellspermann, Capt. Pete Varini Sparkle In Opener

Scoring their first touchdown after only three minutes of the first quarter had elapsed, the St. Joe Pumas opened the season with an 18 to 7 win over Illinois Normal.

It was Captain Pete Varini as the Pumas displayed offensive punch and defensive skill. The Puma Captain gathered all the points for the victors.

Heine Kauffman, sophomore guard from Louisville, Ky., recovered a Normal fumble on the opening kickoff on the 38-yard line. After three first downs, with George Ellspermann and Varini collaborating in the ball carrying duties, Varini crossed into pay dirt from the four.

Normal Has Short Lead

Normal took a short-lived lead in the same period when end Kuchefski pounced on a loose ball on the Puma 19 after a punt had been fumbled by the St. Joe safety. The score came then as a result of a pass from halfback Tony Barnero to Young in the end zone. Belle's conversion gave the Red Birds their one-point lead.

In the second quarter the Pumas again crossed into the end zone. Varini lugged the ball across from the one-yard line. The scoring play was set up after a series of plays which netted three first downs. For the second time it was Varini, Ellspermann, and Swierczek who did the ball totting.

Varini Over Again

The final tally came in the last period with Captain Pete plunging from the two. This time it was mainly Ellspermann who made possible the score. On several plays he broke loose for sizable gains.

Displaying an offense which might be described as "on again, off again" the boys from Collegeville piled up a first down advantage of 19 to 4. Kauffman and Pavletich headed the St. Joe line, which looked better defensively than offensively. Time and time again they broke up Normal plays before they got under way.

Ellspermann Through Line

GEORGE ELLSPERMANN, sophomore back, makes a short gain through the Illinois Normal line last Saturday.

Academy Team Opens At Kentland Tonight

Tonight (Wednesday) the Academy Cubs will make their initial start of the season in a contest at Kentland, Indiana, against Kentland High.

In their opener last week, Kentland took their opponents to the tune of a 45-0 score.

Leading the Cubs, from the right-half position, will be Captain John Wunderlich, 160-pound senior from Aurora, Indiana. At the other half-back position will be Bob Richert from Kankakee, Ill. This 180-pound senior will do most of the kicking and will also back up the line. Mickie Cody, sophomore from Chicago, will be at quarter. Other backs who will probably see action are McElroy, Vincent, A. Serniecz, Steffes, and Carlos.

At center will be senior Jim McHugh, 163-pound Springfield, Ohio, boy. Pete Beltemacchi will get the call at left end. He is a 180-pound senior from Logansport, Ind. At right end will be Bob McNamara, 220-pound senior from Chicago, Ill. Game time will be at 7:45 p. m.

Grid Morale High

"The team has the spirit and although the new boys are not working as a unit yet, watch out for them when they get rounded into shape." This was the composite opinion expressed by the St. Joe varsity players after their 18-7 victory over Illinois Normal last Saturday.

Many of the players were interviewed and their opinion of the team's morale may be characterized in the opening quotation.

MURRAY'S

Face First Major Foe of Schedule On Local Gridiron

At two-thirty Sunday afternoon the St. Joe football machine will be put to the acid test. In quest of their second victory, the Puma warriors face the powerful Loras College Duhawks of Dubuque, Iowa. This will be the first major opponent of the eight-game St. Joe schedule.

To date Loras has a record of one victory and one defeat. The defeat came last Sunday at the hands of the always-strong St. Ambrose eleven. The score was 2 to 0. In their victory the Duhawks downed Coe College 7 to 2.

Coach Vincent Dowd in his second year at the helm of the Iowa school has a great defensive team. He built the squad in his first season at Dubuque. The 1942 team is the finished product. As a sign of the strength of the opponents, 14 lettermen, plus several sophomores and freshmen, are on hand to offer their services.

Watch For Serwinsky

When the Duhawks take the field Sunday afternoon, they will be under the co-captainship of two veterans, Herman Serwinsky, a 215 pound tackle, and Paul (Pepper) Goodwin, dependable right half. Serwinsky, a senior, is rated as one of the best tackles in the mid-west. He exhibited in the St. Ambrose game defensive skill that is hard to surpass.

Unless Coach Dowd decides to change his lineup in order to obtain more scoring punch, it will undoubtedly be Sadowski and Strub on the ends. Captain Herm Serwinsky and Paul Tierney at the tackle posts, and guards Burgmeier and Schneider with Bill O'Neil holding down the pivot position.

In the backfield it will be Chuck Landon at quarter, Captain Paul Goodman and Elliot at the halves, with Ross Wagner at full.

Dienhart Was Displeased

Although the charges of Coach Joe Dienhart pushed the Illinois Normal aggregation all over the field last Saturday, the Puma mentor was displeased with the showing of his team. Drills this week will probably find the Pumas working for greater offensive strength through better blocking on the part of the line. Timing will also be an important factor that the Puma Coach will stress.

Tom Scollard and Tom Bestudik will again start on the ends of the line. Lou Yugovich will probably start at left tackle with Elmer Wielontek at the right tackle position. Kauffmann and Smith will start at the guards with Vanderkolk at center.

In the backfield it will undoubtedly be Lapsys, Ellspermann, Varini, and Swierczek. Curley Wisniewski will be ready to share the left half duties with George Ellspermann.

C.L.S. Names F. Kinney President of Thespians

Francis Kinney, senior of Ironton, Ohio, was elected president of the Columbian Literary Society at the first meeting this year held last Sunday in the College Theatre. Three ballots were cast to reach a majority vote.

Other officers for the year are Raymond Galvin, vice-president; Vincent Giese, secretary; John McCabe, treasurer; and Bob Causland, critic.

Following the election of officers, unfinished business from the last spring meeting was discussed. Plans were proposed for the coming Golden Jubilee celebration of the C. L. S.

The question of keys for members of two or more years' standing was brought up, though no definite decision was made. New members were then proposed and accepted into the society.

Feicht Heads Camera Fans This Semester

At the first meeting of the year of the Campus Camera Club, John Feicht, college senior of Canton, Ohio, was elected president.

Don Vogt, a junior from Wilmette, Ill., was elected vice-president; Joseph Reinman, senior from Leipsic, Ohio, was elected secretary; and Walter Donahue, junior from Cleveland, Ohio, was elected treasurer.

Camera Club memberships are open to all those interested in photography or those who would like to learn about photography.

President John Feicht announced that interesting meetings, with many speakers, will make this year a banner year for the club.

Sophomores Elect Dunn

John Dunn, of Crawfordsville, Indiana, was elected president of the sophomore class at a class meeting held in Science Hall last Monday.

Other officers chosen are as follows: Eugene Shaw, vice-president; Paul Reichert, secretary; and Henry Kauffmann, treasurer. Gilbert Hodges and James Shields were elected to the student council.

Weatherman Ray Zupkie Scratches Head Over Pranks

If you see a Community Student with a worried expression on his face or sprinkling of gray at the temples, you can be almost certain that it is Raymond Zupkie, of Abbotstown, Pa., official government weather observer at Collegeville.

Since Ray succeeded Clement Kuhns—who went to St. Charles Seminary—as weather observer, Mother Nature has been busy pulling freakish tricks from her plentiful pack.

According to Zupkie, the coolest day so far this semester was September 28 when the mercury took a drop to 27 degrees. Most unusual phenomenon, however, was the 1.92 inches of rain, sleet, and snow that fell September 25.

Quite undaunted by the weather's fickleness, Ray predicts a long, cold winter. He bases his assumption on the rapid changes of weather this fall.

Glee Club Elects

Wallace Spalding, senior, of Louisville, Ky., was elected president of St. Joseph's Glee Club at a meeting held Thursday evening.

Other officers elected were Thomas Joyce, vice-president and business manager, Thomas Scheiber, treasurer, and Frank Staueet, secretary.

Postoffice Hours

New post office hours for this year have been posted. The post office is open on weekdays during the following hours:

Choir Will Sing More Plain Chant This Year

Music for the Sunday High Masses during the coming year will be quite different from that of last year. The choir, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S. will sing more Plain Chant Masses, instead of the former four-voice arrangements.

Plain Chant, or Gregorian Chant, as it is often called, is the official music of the Catholic Church. It dates back to the year 600 when it was gathered and published by Pope Gregory the Great.

While not as brilliant and grandiose as polyphonic (usually four-voice) music, it has a simple, gentle beauty suited to the liturgical feasts and seasons of the year.

Intros, Offertories, and Communions will also be sung as written in the proper of the Mass. In the past, most of them have been chanted. When sung, they express more tellingly the spirit of the season or feast.

Lahey Made Ensign

William Francis Lahey, former student of St. Joseph's, has been commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Navy.

At present he is enrolled at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., in the Naval Air Corps. There he is preparing to be an instructor in the U. S. Naval Air Force.

Bill received his primary instruction in the Civil Aeronautical course while attending St. Joe.

The Academy Corner

By Ed McElroy

No doubt the three most talked about boys in the Academy this week are Bob Meiners, Jack Welly, and Gerry Leahy. Our good friend, Brother Dave, created an elaborate masterpiece upon their crania with a couple of little instruments called the scissors and clippers.

Now that these three very refined gentlemen have conquered the hair-cutting field, they are out searching for more interesting fields. They will appreciate any suggestions.

Last Thursday night the seniors took advantage of their monthly town-night. Some went to the show, while others took in the sights of the town.

WE HEAR: Rich Latendresse saying to Jim Carney: "Who gave you the black eye, Jim?" "Nobody, I had to fight for it." Connie Fecher telling Bob McNamara that he had had an argument with the dentist. "Who won?" asked Bob. "Neither, it ended in a draw."

Glancing about the study hall we see . . . John Wunderlich still trying to figure out his occupational questionnaire . . . Norman (Dimples) Ascherman taking his evening nap . . . Bob Vincent studying Aeronautics very diligently.

Friday evening, assembly was called in room three for the purpose of taking a psychological examination. The examination consisted of seven parts. The Rev. Walter Pax, C.P.P.S., chairman of the school's educational and philosophical department, gave the test. These tests are supposed to determine a student's intellectual ability.

Last week two cases of reference books were placed in the Academy study hall. They are there to serve as a ready aid to the students in their studies. This week the club-room pool table underwent alterations. New cloth was put on by Father Bernard Scharf, club moderator, and Curley Wisniewski, college senior.

Connie Fecher, who suffered a dislocated collar bone earlier this season, will have his cast removed this week.

The Academy football season has started now with Dave Clemens, head manager. His assistant is Earl Redden.

Last Sunday afternoon the football team had a special scrimmage for the game this Wednesday evening which they are to play at Kentland.

While Academy Coach, Dick Scharf, traveled to Toledo, Ohio, to scout the game for the College, Chuck Ploszek took charge of the team.

According to Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., moderator of the Newman Club, the club will organize this week or next.
